We are once again posting on Facebook!

Our activity on Facebook has been sporadic for some time. We had determined that there are three different Facebook "pages" relating to the MCRHS or CBRR. We don't seem to have control over two of them but recently regained control over the profile with 267 existing friends. Since that time we have gained 36 new friends. The name of that "page" is Marshall-County Railroad Historical-Society. If you search for that name on Facebook (include the two hyphens) you should be taken to the correct Facebook "page". For a quick search you can enter cbrr (lowercase). The cover photo and profile picture appear below.

This will provide us with an excellent opportunity to keep people aware of our existence and to advertise public rides and events. It also provides a means of sharing with the public pictures from our rides and workdays, etc. If you are a user of Facebook, please become a friend and feel free to share our posts. The Facebook account is being managed by Dave Crawford. The page is somewhat moderated in that posts not related to the operations of MCRHS/CBRR will be hidden from the timeline.
